Applications are invited for a Permanent/Temporary post of a Lecturer/ Assistant Professor in Management x2 within UCD College of Business

University College Dublin invites applications for two positions of Lecturer/Assistant Professor in the UCD College of Business, Management Subject Area. The areas of focus for these posts are specifically those of Project Management / Innovation & Entrepreneurship / Leading Innovation.

UCD College of Business consists of the UCD Lochlann Quinn School of Business ('the Quinn School') focused on undergraduate education, the UCD Michael Smurfit Graduate School of Business ('the Smurfit School'), the UCD Centre for Distance Learning ('CDL') and UCD Smurfit Executive Development ('Executive Development'). The Quinn School and CDL are located on the main campus at Belfield while the Smurfit School and Executive Development are located at Blackrock about five kilometres away. Academic staff teach typically teach across all schools.

One of the keystones of the College’s reputation as one of the world’s leading business schools is the quality and expertise of our faculty. Consistently highly ranked amongst the global-leading business schools in the Financial Times’ competitive global rankings, the College is currently ranked 23rd in the FT European Business Schools ranking. It is the only Irish member of the leading business school alliances, the Global Alliance in Management Education (CEMS) and the Global Network for Advanced Management (GNAM), and the College also holds the triple crown of accreditation from AACSB (US), EQUIS (Europe) and AMBA (UK).

The mission of the College is to cultivate an environment of excellence in business education and to foster life-long learning and innovation in the preparation of promising people for positions of increasing responsibility and leadership in Ireland and abroad. This has been defined in its mission statement:

To be the leader in business education in Ireland and among the leaders in Europe by providing bold, imaginative educational programmes informed by an intensive commitment to research, discovery and innovation.

The core values of the College are excellence in research and teaching, collegiality within the university, and a willingness to change and accept diversity. The College is committed to continuous improvement and increasing aspirations in regard to teaching and knowledge creation and dissemination.

The Management Subject Area at UCD is the largest of the subject areas in the College of Business. The principal areas of academic specialty lie in the core business areas of Strategy, Operations and Supply Chain Management, Organisational Behaviour, Project Management, Entrepreneurship and Innovation, Technology Management, International Business, and Organisation Theory.
