Assistant or Associate Professor Management & Decision Sciences

The E. Craig Wall Senior College of Business Administration at Coastal Carolina University invites applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in the Department of Management and Decision Sciences at the Assistant/Associate Professor level, beginning Fall 2023.

Quality research, teaching, and service will be expected of the individual hired for this position. We are looking for a candidate to teach in one or more of the following areas: decision analysis, operations management, business statistics, and/or business analytics. The teaching load is three courses per semester, six courses per academic year. These courses may include face-to-face, hybrid, and/or online deliveries. In addition to undergraduate student advising, other service expectations include contributions to the department, college, university, and profession.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. or D.B.A. from an AACSB-accredited or regionally accredited institution in decision sciences, operations management, management science, supply chain management, data analytics, or a related discipline. A.B.D. candidates with a clear plan for completion by December 2023 are also encouraged to apply. For candidates who have completed a Ph.D./D.B.A., a consistent record of publication in quality refereed journals is expected.

The successful candidate will also have potential or demonstrated contributions to a climate of diversity, equity, and inclusion. Coastal Carolina University is committed to fostering an environment that embraces diversity, equity, and inclusion, and we seek candidates who will contribute to a climate that supports the growth and development of a diverse campus community. Core to the mission and values of the Wall College of Business is a commitment to celebrating differences and embracing the expression of different perspectives. We are eager to welcome a colleague who supports and can contribute to those same goals and values.
