FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

The Narendra Paul Loomba Department of Management at the Zicklin School of Business invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Operations Management starting August 2021, subject to final budget approval.

The successful candidate is expected to pursue and promote a rigorous research agenda in operations and/or business analytics, and contribute to the new doctoral concentration in Operations and Decision Analytics (ODA). Contribution to the doctoral concentration in ODA includes doctoral student mentorship and advisement as well as teaching course(s) or leading seminar(s) at the doctoral level in the candidate’s area of expertise.

Baruch College is located in Manhattan’s historic Gramercy/Flatiron district between Midtown and Wall Street and offers significant professional opportunities to interact with operations and supply chain professionals in the retail, financial services, transportation, healthcare, and government sectors. The Zicklin School of Business is New York City's premier public business school with an international reputation for excellence in offering nationally-ranked business degrees including BBA and MBA programs, specialized MS degrees in Business Analytics, executive programs, and the Zicklin PhD in Business, offered jointly with the CUNY Graduate Center (including the newest PhD concentration, Operations and Decision Analytics). The Operations Management faculty routinely publish in top journals and host internationally-known OM scholars in the Omega research seminar series.

Compensation and teaching loads will be competitive and commensurate with rank.

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should have a PhD (or ABD) in Operations Management, Operations Research, Management Science, Business Analytics, Industrial Engineering, or a related field.

Preference will be given to candidates with a proven research record and teaching experience at undergraduate and/or graduate levels. Desirable are research and teaching interests in all areas related to Operations Management and Business Analytics. Both analytical and empirical research orientations will be considered.

Candidates should also be prepared to teach core and/or elective courses in operations management and/or business analytics to MBA and BBA students with full course ownership.

HOW TO APPLY

Interested candidates must complete an online application via the City University of New York’s central application system. Detailed instructions for how to apply can be found at https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-operations-management/278EA54728B740038D00FCB4C5A80178/job/. Applicants should include a CV, a research statement, copies of recent publications, and a summary of recent teaching evaluations. Applications must be completed by April 13, 2021.

Inquiries related to this position may be made to OM.Recruiter@baruch.cuny.edu. Please note that formal applications must be through the https://cuny.jobs website. Any material(s) sent to this e-mail address are not a substitute for the formal application at the https://cuny.jobs website.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.