Instructor/Assistant Professor in Supply Chain Management

Faculty Posting Date: February 24, 2021
To Apply: apply.interfolio.com/84604

The Palumbo Donahue School of Business Administration at Duquesne University invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-track faculty position in Supply Chain Management, beginning Fall 2021. An applicant with an MBA or relevant master's degree would be appointed as an Instructor, while an applicant with a Ph.D. in Supply Chain Management or a relevant field would be appointed as an Assistant Professor of Practice. Responsibilities include a base teaching load of eight (4-4 load) three-credit-hour classes per year at the undergraduate and graduate levels as well as service to the department, school and/or university.

Applicants who are able to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Supply Chain Management are welcome and encouraged to apply. Additional knowledge in Supply Management/Purchasing would be beneficial. Also, we are especially interested in candidates who, through their teaching and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of Duquesne's academic community.

Support and Programs:
The AACSB-accredited Palumbo-Donahue School of Business has approximately 1500 undergraduate and graduate students. We offer a collegial environment, competitive salaries, easy access to the Pittsburgh business community, and support for high-quality teaching. The Accounting, Information Systems Management and Supply Chain Management Department supports several degree programs, including the B.S.B.A, the Professional MBA, and the MBA-Sustainable Business Practices. In addition, the department has Specialized Master's programs in Accounting (MAcc), Analytics and Information Management (MS-AIM), and Supply Chain Management (MS-SCM). The School's strategic plan includes sustainability principles, business ethics, and an entrepreneurial mindset as learning themes for all students. We launched a Center of Excellence in Supply Chain Management in Fall 2018 to promote collaboration among faculty, students, and the business community. In addition, students have the opportunity to earn certifications in Lean Six Sigma, SAP, and Transportation Management within their Supply Chain Management courses.

Duquesne University:
Duquesne is a comprehensive university with about 9,000 undergraduate and graduate students in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. All programs are accredited by AACSB. For more information about the business school and university, see: www.duq.edu. Duquesne
University is committed to attracting, retaining, and developing a diverse faculty that reflects contemporary society, serves our academic mission and enriches our campus community.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Required Attributes

• An MBA or relevant master's degree
• Some corporate experience in supply chain management roles
• Demonstrated performance in teaching
• A collegial and collaborative orientation
• Willingness to work toward the growth and development of our supply chain programs

Desired Attributes

• An earned Ph.D. (or anticipated by August 2021) in Supply Chain Management or a related field
• Significant managerial experience in supply chain management roles
• Experience with graduate teaching, online instruction and/or executive education

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Catholic in its mission and ecumenical in spirit, Duquesne University values equality of opportunity as an educational institution and as an employer. We aspire to attract and sustain a diverse faculty that reflects contemporary society, serves our academic goals that enriches our campus community. We particularly encourage applications from members of underrepresented groups and support dual-career couples through our charter membership in this region’s HERC.

We invite applicants for this position to learn more about our University and its Spiritan heritage by visiting our Mission Statement. Those invited to campus via Zoom meeting for an interview may be asked about ways in which they see their talents contributing to the continued growth of our community and furthering its mission.

Duquesne University uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Applicants should submit a letter of intent, a curriculum vitae, and contact information for three professional references via Interfolio http://apply.interfolio.com/84604. The letter of intent should include comments on the ability to teach in flexible environments, including online, hybrid, and in-person classroom settings. Applicants are encouraged to describe in their letter of intent how their scholarship contributes to building and supporting a diverse and inclusive community. Questions may be directed to Dr. Kathryn Marley at marleyk@duq.edu. Review of candidates will begin on receipt of applications and continue until the position is filled.

Duquesne University was founded in 1878 by its sponsoring religious community, the Congregation of the Holy Spirit. Duquesne University is Catholic in mission and ecumenical in spirit. Motivated by its Catholic identity, Duquesne values equality of opportunity both as an educational institution and as an employer.