Tulane University
A. B. Freeman School of Business
Visiting Assistant Professor in Management Science

Position Description
The A.B. Freeman School of Business at Tulane University is seeking applicants for visiting faculty positions (Visiting Assistant Professor) in Management Science. These are full-time appointments in the School’s management science area, with teaching responsibilities primarily in data and analytics courses. All positions are to start January 1, 2022. Salary, teaching load, and research support are commensurate with other major research institutions.

Qualifications
Candidates should have earned or expect to complete a PhD in one of the following areas: Management Science, Operations Management, Information Systems, Business Analytics, Engineering, Computer Science, or Statistics. We seek candidates who have strong teaching skills to teach data and analytics courses at the undergraduate and/or master's level and have interest in academic research.

Application Instructions
Application materials should be submitted electronically through Interfolio and should include a curriculum vitae, 2 confidential letters of recommendation, a research statement, research papers, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. Hiring for all positions is subject to final budgetary approval by the university.
