

The 1st POMS College of Operational Excellence Webinar

Future of Lean Research

An open-access webinar sponsored by the POMS College of Operational Excellence

November 5, 2021, 10.00-11:30 AM EST/ 16.00-17.30 CEWT, Online

Recent discussions in the Journal of Operations Management on the state of Lean research and practice stake out important definitions and elemental concepts of Lean (see below). In this webinar, participants will hear from and interact with leading researchers in this important domain.

The discussion will be driven in part by questions submitted by registrants in advance. In addition, the planned agenda will address questions regarding different views of Lean, its definitions, operationalizations, practical applications, emerging research opportunities, and relationship to larger transformational efforts in operations management.

The webinar is moderated by Morgan Swink (TCU). The panelists are as follows:

- James Womack (LEI)
- Tyson Browning (TCU)
- Rachna Shah (U. of Minnesota)
- Torbjorn Netland (ETH)

This webinar is free of charge. The link to the event will be posted in due time. Please register your interest and post your questions at <https://www.linkedin.com/events/6845420575901405184/>
