

FOX SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY

TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION IN OPERATIONS & SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

The Department of Statistics, Operations, and Data Science (SODS) in the Fox School of Business at Temple University invites qualified applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Operations & Supply Chain Management. We seek applicants with research interests in operations management, including (but not limited to) areas such as supply chain management, analytics, optimization, sustainability, behavioral operations, computational game theory, and machine learning. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in operations management or a related field, including computer science or statistics, as well as an outstanding record in research and a commitment to excellence in teaching. For further information about the SODS department, please click here.

Your application should include the following: (a) cover letter, (b) full curriculum vitae, (c) brief statement of current and future research interests, (d) evidence of excellence in teaching (i.e., evaluations) and/or a statement addressing teaching philosophy and experience, (e) names and contact information of three references, and (f) up to three sample publications.

Submit materials electronically to the Chair of the Faculty Search Committee, Professor Subodha Kumar, at sods@temple.edu. The subject line should be “Application for Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Operations & Supply Chain Management.”

Temple University is an international powerhouse in higher education and a top-tier research institution with roughly 35,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. As the largest university in one of the nation’s most iconic cities, Temple educates diverse future leaders from across Philadelphia, the country, and the world who share a common drive to learn, prepare for their careers, and make a real impact. For additional information about Temple University, please visit our website at www.temple.edu.

The Fox School of Business, in particular, with over 5,400 students and 135 full-time faculty members, is accredited by AACSB and is one of the largest and most comprehensive business schools in the nation, offering Bachelors, MBA, Specialized Masters, Executive MBA, Executive DBA, and Ph.D. with programs at campuses in the Philadelphia region and worldwide.

Philadelphia is the 6th largest city in the United States and is a major cultural center as well as an international gateway. The city is close to New York and Washington, D.C. Housing and living costs in Philadelphia are among the lowest of major US cities. Philadelphia also has a significant presence of IT, financial services, pharmaceutical, and other industries, providing opportunities for interaction with businesses and research.

Temple University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all in every aspect of its operations, including employment, service, and educational programs. The University has pledged not to discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, marital status, national origin or ethnic origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information or veteran status.

Temple University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report contains statistics, policies, and procedures related to campus safety and can be found at: <https://safety.temple.edu/reports-logs/annual-security-report>. You may request a copy of the report by calling Temple University’s Campus Safety Services at 215-204-7900.