

The University of Tennessee - Knoxville: Knoxville Academic Units: Haslam College of Business: Supply Chain Management

Location

Supply Chain Management Department, Haslam College of Business

Open Date

January 26, 2026

Description

The University of Tennessee Knoxville seeks a non-tenure track (NTT) position for a Lecturer, Teaching Professor, or Faculty of Practice Series that will reside within the Department of Supply Chain Management. The position is available for starting on August 1st 2026, and is open until it is filled. The faculty member will report to the Department Head of Supply Chain Management (SCM) and work closely with other tenured and non-tenured faculty in the SCM Department to collaboratively achieve our department's instructional goals. The NTT faculty member will also be expected to engage, inform, motivate and build connections with students and external university partners; and have an ability to work in a team-based, client-centered, and fast-paced setting.

Information about the University of Tennessee – Knoxville may be found here:

<https://provost.utk.edu/faculty-success/faculty-recruitment-and-hiring/>

Information about the Supply Chain Management Department in the Haslam College of Business may be found here: <https://haslam.utk.edu/supply-chain-management/>

The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to promote an atmosphere where all members of the university community feel welcome and can thrive.

Qualifications

The preferred candidate is expected to be able to teach in the undergraduate/graduate Operations Management and/or Manufacturing courses offered by the SCM Department. Preference will be given to candidates that have experience in these stated subareas although other subfields of Supply Chain Management including Procurement, Logistics Management, Information Technology, and Supply Chain Planning/Strategy will also be considered during the search. The ability to relate to real-world experience in academic settings is essential.

Rank and Classification will be determined based on a candidate's qualifications and experience in accordance with the following requirements for each series. Terminal degree and professional industry experience are required at the time of application.

Lecturer / Teaching Assistant Professor / Assistant Professor of Practice:

Required: Graduate degree in Supply Chain Management or a related discipline with some teaching and/or industry experience in Operations Management and/or Manufacturing subject matter.

Preferred: A Ph.D., or D.B.A. from an accredited institution in Supply Chain Management or related discipline.

Senior Lecturer / Teaching Associate Professor / Associate Professor of Practice:

Required: A Ph.D., or D.B.A. from an accredited institution in Supply Chain Management or related discipline with a demonstrated record of high-quality and innovative teaching and/or industry experience in Operations Management and/or Manufacturing courses.

Preferred: The ideal candidate should also possess at least five years of professional Supply Chain Management industry experience or experience teaching Operations Management and/or Manufacturing courses at an accredited institution; significant leadership responsibility would be beneficial.

Distinguished Lecturer / Teaching Professor / Professor of Practice:

Required: A Ph.D., or D.B.A. from an accredited institution in Supply Chain Management or related discipline with a demonstrated record of at least ten years of high-quality and innovative teaching in Operations Management and/or Manufacturing courses at an accredited institution, as well as professional Supply Chain Management industry experience or experience teaching; significant leadership responsibility is required.

Preferred: Teaching experience with institutions recognized for their expertise in Supply Chain Management; Experience teaching multiple subjects within Supply Chain Management and with online course delivery. Knowledge of both the operational and strategic importance of Supply Chain Management in both research and applied settings. Other highly desirable qualifications include the demonstrated ability to build connections with students and external university partners; an understanding of business school research and programming; and the ability to work in a team-based, client-centered, fast-paced, and innovative setting.

Application Instructions

Applicants are required to provide (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) letter articulating interest in and qualifications for the position; (3) statement of teaching philosophy; (4) names and contact information of three to five references. Review of applications begins on March 6, 2026 and applications received after March 27, 2026 may be reviewed if a suitable candidate is not discovered. Questions regarding the position can be directed to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Alexandre Medeiros Rodrigues (arodri23@utk.edu). Please do not apply directly to the search chair, but rather through the online system.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/180246>

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's online Faculty Search system to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Requests for accommodations of a disability should be directed to the Office of Equal Opportunity and Accessibility, 1840 Melrose Avenue Knoxville, Tennessee 37996-3560 or eoao@utk.edu or (865)974-2498. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Investigation & Resolution 216 Business Incubator Building 2450 EJ. Chapman Drive Knoxville, Tennessee 37996 or (865)974-0717 or investigations@utk.edu.