

Tulane University
Freeman School of Business
Visiting Assistant Professor in Management Science

Position Description

The A.B. Freeman School of Business at Tulane University seeks qualified individuals for its Adjunct Lecturer Pool and welcomes applicants at any time. This posting is for Fall 2026, Spring and Summer 2027 semesters. Openings for Adjunct Lecturers to teach courses develop on a periodic basis, change from semester to semester, and depend on the Freeman School's teaching needs. Adjunct Lecturers teach rigorous and engaging undergraduate and/or graduate courses across different teaching modalities (with a focus on experiential learning), and remain current and relevant in one's teaching field through professional and/or scholarly engagement activities.

Qualifications

Candidates are expected to be either professionally qualified (i.e., Master's Degree or Ph.D. in the teaching area or in a related field and a substantial record of recent professional experience) or academically qualified (i.e., Ph.D. in the teaching area and actively engaged in scholarly and/or professional engagement activities). We seek collegial candidates with demonstrated excellence in communication skills and/or success in classroom teaching, and experience with experiential learning.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, student course evaluations, and a list of two professional references (with contact information) who can provide confidential letters of recommendation. Other materials may be requested later. For further inquiries about this position, please email Professor Claire Senot, at csenot@tulane.edu
